

Dr. Fahrenheit Von Ampère

By Bob Boucher, March 2011

Fahrenheit Von Ampère
he is no friend of mine,
burns out all my motors
yes every single time.

First it was my furnace
and then my kitchen sink.
The dishwasher is next
it's beginning to stink.

Fahrenheit Von Ampère
just why are you so mean,
Burning up everything
appliance and machine?

I'm just a policeman
I did not make the rule.
Remember I squared R
that we all learned in school.

Watts are Watts, heat is heat
that song we learned to sing.
Fahrenheit Von Ampère
you are a cruel thing!

I always light your lights.
I always toast your toast,
I always heat your oven,
to cook that fine pot roast.

Lean to use me wisely
or you will soon be burned.
Playing with fire
is not for the unlearned.
